

THE LORD MAYOR'S COMPOSITION PRIZE

COMPETITION RULES 2024

The Lord Mayor's Composition Prize is administered and funded by the Worshipful Company of Musicians to provide a biennial prize for classical composition. Previous competitions were held in 2012 (String Quintet), 2013 (Organ), 2015 (Piano Trio), 2017 (Wind Quintet), 2019 (solo voice, piano and obligato melody instrument) and 2022 (a setting for choir of the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis).

1. The composition for the 2024 Competition will be for solo piano.

2. The amount of the 2024 Lord Mayor's Composition prize will be £5,000.

3. The winning composition will be performed by a professional pianist in a concert arranged by The Musicians' Company in January 2025 in St Stephen's Walbrook. At the concert the winner's award will be presented by the Lord Mayor of London.

It should be noted that the composition may be in any style and that composers are welcome to incorporate jazz, folk or popular music idioms in the work while recognising the influence and traditions of Classical contemporary composition. The inclusion of an electronic element in the composition is allowed though a work using electronic elements must be performable with equipment and/or programme that is readily accessible and, if necessary, provided by the composer.

4. The judging panel for the 2024 Lord Mayor's Composition Prize is expected to include among others Leslie East (Chairman, City Music Society and Pastmaster of the Company), Richard Blackford (composer and Freeman of the Company), Mihai Ritivoiu (pianist and Freeman of the Company) and Professor Vanessa Lata arche (Chair of International Keyboard Studies, Royal College of Music and Company Court Assistant).

6. The work submitted must be entirely the work of the composer. It should be noted that this Competition permits a single theme or line of music originated by another composer to be incorporated into the new composition. The work must be composed specially for this competition and must not have been performed or recorded before.

7. The work must last a minimum of eight minutes and should not exceed twelve (12) minutes in duration. The estimated duration must be stated on the score.

9. Each entry must be supported by two references from referees who are able to write from personal knowledge about the composer and his/her achievements.
10. Scores must be submitted printed single-sided on white A4 paper, not bound in any way. Scores will be photocopied for the judging panel and it is assumed that entrants give consent for this.
11. The winner of the Competition must agree in advance that they will attend at least one rehearsal with the pianist who will perform the winning composition and attend the concert during which the winning composition will be performed for the first time.
12. Entrants are responsible for their own travel and accommodation costs regarding any aspect of the competition or premiere.
13. Each entry will be scrutinised, in the first instance, by a Screening Panel, to ensure that it meets both the brief for that year and the Rules for the Prize.
14. Selection will take place in October 2024 by an Adjudication Panel, who will select the winning entry.
15. The composer of the winning work will be informed in November 2024.
16. The composer of the winning work will be required to donate a signed, bound copy of the score of the work to The Musicians' Company to be lodged in the Company's Archives and grant permission for part of the work to be reproduced on the Company's website.
17. The Musicians' Company reserves the right to present the first performance of the winning work.
18. The Judges' decision is final. Neither the Judges nor The Musicians' Company will enter into correspondence with any entrants. No alternative prize will be considered.
